

AD BOOK & RECEPTION

June 12-14, 2025 - Chicago

This June approximately 350 historians, labor educators, union members and working-class activists will gather on the campus of the University of Chicago for the Labor and Working-Class History Association Conference, Making Work Matter: Solidarity Across Space and Time. The conference will feature three days of panels that explore the history of labor and working-class struggles—and why that history matters today. On Saturday, June 14 the conference will celebrate the labor movement with a reception:

National Association of Letter Carriers
Branch 11 Hall, James E. Worsham building
3650 S. Wabash Avenue
Chicago, IL 60653
7 pm – Saturday, June 14

Welcome our guests to Chicago and help up celebrate the strong labor and working-class history from around globe by purchasing an ad for the conference program book. Your financial support will help LAWCHA fund graduate students and contingent faculty with travel and research support.
